Selection

One hundred artists will be chosen in a pre-selection, which will be carried out by the EXIT and Exit-Express editorial team. Afterwards, a jury consisting of professionals from the field, including critics, curators, and several acclaimed photographers, all of whom will be of different ages and nationalities, will choose the winning projects, which will be a minimum of 10 and a maximum of 20. The names of the jury members will be made public at a later date.

All the selected works will be shown on the -30 website, linked to the EXIT and Museology websites. The works will remain online until the next iteration of -30. The winners of each iteration will be posted on the website in the Winners section. The winning works will be reproduced in a bilingual (English and Spanish) publication, in the form of a large format journal. This journal will be gifted to the winners and distributed to photography professionals and enthusiasts for a minimal price.
